Key Speaker

Tim Mobbs

Topic: The Digital Crime Scene

During this presentation Tim enlightens his audience into the practical advantages of utilising a Computer Forensics specialist. He will use some interesting case samples from both his

Police role and similarly how he can assist private sector investigations and how important it can be in proving an outcome. He also talks about future technology and how likely it is that the vast majority of investigations will require a technical knowledge to some degree.

Tim will also offer advice to a few regular queries he receives and how you can resolve some matters yourselves and will finally touch on some information for 'first responders' to the Digital Crime Scene.

Tim served in Merseyside Police for 32 years before his retirement in 2012. Having worked in Uniform & CID at an inner City area of Liverpool, he went on to specialise in Commercial Fraud Investigations, Card & Cheque Fraud, Level 1 Surveillance, Witness Protection and more latterly High Tech Crime Investigation Unit conducting Computer Forensics and Open Source Investigations.

Post retirement he has gone on to satisfy a life long ambition of running his own business. Now running a Digital Forensics, a Data Recovery and a Tech Training business, he has worked on many successful cases in the Private Sector for both Business & private customers.

Workshop Speaker

Tony Dahill

Workshop: Interview Techniques

Tony is a retired Police Officer with twenty-nine years operational service in the Merseyside Police most spent in the Criminal Investigation Department and related specialist Departments. The final three years of service were at the Police Training Centre where he delivered training to a variety of Staff, including Senior Investigating Officers.

He has lectured to Psychology (MSc) students & Criminal Justice (MA) students on methods of criminal investigation and the relevance of memory in relation to victims and witnesses. He has worked for a number of clients in the public and private sector delivering Investigative, Interviewing, Conflict Resolution and other training and delivered training sessions for amongst others; the Co-operative Bank, Liverpool Social Care workers, the Independent Living Funds, the NHS and the States of Jersey Government as well as many corporate sector clients.

In addition to investigative experience, he is a Home Office licensed Diversity Trainer and holds relevant professional qualifications in the following areas: Training Development & Assessor Licence, Tactical Interview Advisers Course & Statement Analysis and Interview Techniques Course

Vince Butler

Workshop:

50 Ways to Generate More
Business Cost Effectively

Vince operates a busy and progressive investigations business based in West Yorkshire and has been in the industry for now over 16 years covering various aspects and types of investigations.

Vince is Fellow of The Institute of Paralegals, and also a member of the Federation of Small Businesses (FSB) and West & North Yorkshire Chamber of Commerce.

He sits on the Governing Council and is our current ABI Investigator of the Year.

This workshop will focus on cost effective ways of making subtle & low cost changes within your business to generate more revenue.

Afternoon Session - Members Only

ABI Marketing Presentation

The Association is about to commence a twelve month marketing campaign in conjunction with The Law Society.

To make the most of the relationship it will be necessary to gather assistance from the membership in order to promote the Association to the legal sector.

This needs to be done in a consistent way with a particular focus on several features of the ABI and growing our unique Lawyers Registration Scheme.

The Governing Council will explain the project to ABI members only and invite suggestions and observations from the floor.

The ultimate aim of this initiative is to improve business prospects for all ABI members.

This is your opportunity to contribute to a significant piece of work and in doing so, add even more value to your ABI membership.
